HAPPY NEW YEAR

The ll is sunrise and the new 1874 in Hope springs eternal in the human breast Man never is but always to be blest The soul uneasy and confined at home Rests and expatiates in a life to come Lord of the future years to Thee I call Take charge of them as of the past and all Thou who hast kept us so long hast yet more Bless for us in the time we have before Bless us not for the sake of mortal prayer But for the sake of what Thou seest we are Bless us not for the sake of what we seek But for the sake of what we are too weak To ask or even to know of Thee Bless us for what we dare not ask or see Bless us for what we cannot hope or fear Bless us for Thine own sake and for Thine alone Bless us for the sake of Him whose power Hath been our help in this departing hour Whose love is our assurance and our plea Who died and lives and lives that we may be Amen

The old year had its joys and well music ed an open hand across the bright ones bright after the dark have passed away Hope and not fear colors the ture so are past and future bright to the prudent

You may fully realize all you that just hanging all your fondest tions but you will find some every day and when a little one shall receive a warm welcome this year come objects from every quarter they were but the shadows of all the years wrought with the high nes to us This one of the sions in our mental constitu tions by which all things are brought best to contribute to our happiness

And then in the average human life there is more of happiness than of misery in any year you may select This is the compensation of nature we all receive balance of good, after making due allow ances for the ills of life We may there fore with thankful hearts for the blessings of the past and with faith in the loving Father that holds our future in His hands feel the assurance that our words are benediction and prophecy as well the expression of a wish when we greet each other this morning with A Happy New Year

WALLAMET RIVER

The annual report of Mayor H M Rob ert on the improvement of the rivers of Oregon shows that by the expenditure of a small sum of money annually the navi gation of the Willamet could be so im proved as to make an available means of transportation throughout the year to points that can now be reached only at the best stage of water The wing-dams constructed under the supervision of Ma jor Robert were built so low that when the water rises to such a height as to make them unnecessary as a means of deepening the channel they are entirely submerged thus securing them against destruction by fruit in time of freshet Dams thus built in the summer of 18 2 were found in 1873 to have been effectual but very little by the freshets of the in tervening winter and the channels open ed in the former year needed scarcely any work during the latter

The report shows that 222 snags which seriously obstructed the navigation of the river were removed Many of these were buried in the ground for two-thirds of their length and were removed with very considerable difficulty There are not many dangerous snags remaining and a very slight expenditure of money would keep the stream entirely clear of this class of obstruction hereafter

Fifteen thousand dollars spent annually on this river would soon make it possible for steamboats to reach Albany, or Cor vallis, at any stage of water and to go to Harrisburg nine out of the twelve months Of course fifty thousand dollars a year would put the work forward with greater rapidity, and make the Wallamet a prac ticable channel of transportation for near ly all the year and that without delay And that sum would not be an unreason ably large one for the Government to ex pend on the work, for a few years and until the main obstructions were all dis posed of Considering the vast capabili ties of the country of which this stream is the natural outlet to the sea and the rap id increase during the last two or three years of the productions requiring trans portation to the seaboard one can realize how great a misfortune it is for this work to cease as it appears likely to do

THE LAST OF THE SLAVE MARKET

Mr Steel of this city has in his posses sion the last bill of sale ever executed in the city of Memphis for the transfer of a human being as a chattel After the close of the war which made it impossible for a man slave to exist on American soil this original instrument was preserved by Mr Steel by the Registrar, who had re corded it, and with whom it had been left by the purchaser of the slave It seems but a short time since transactions similar to that of which this document was in tended to be evidence were common in the United States and yet how unreal over this paper it has the semblance of the dark age, and we can scarcely realize that it was written as a memorandum of an actual transaction that took place free America and within the memories of sons who are still young Let the ple of the South in State and to look upon a record like this without tears in their eyes is one regarded a relic of antiq ty

Here is a copy of the instrument fourteen hundred dollars to us paid we have

THURSDAY MORNING JANUARY 1 1874

CITY.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS—As the old year was ap proaching its end the pupils in the various public schools of this city were treated to entertainment at Columbian Engine Co s House which was kindly loaned to the meeting room The object of such gatherings of those immediately interested in both the company and the late fair in Armory were during votes for the fire trumpet A literary programme of the day assisted materially in polling a large vote—the second best ever cast—and called Mr W O Brown Chief Engineer to the platform and after a few remarks handed to Mrs Baltimore a most gold watch and chain Mr A B Hallock responded on behalf of the lady and the officers presented with the requirement and offered congratulations On the case of the watch is inscribed New Years Present Columbian Engine Co No 2 to Mrs J M Baltimore—1874 It is valued at $150 The testimonial was well deserved the donors will never regret their gift and Happy New Year to all

THAWING OUT—On Tuesday evening the thermometer stood at 40° at the Dalles and Hood at the Cascades This state of the weather will soon cause a thaw in the lowlands and free the rivers of that portion of the Columbia We learn that the ice is already breaking up with floating These deep channels are well suited to break up and remove the ice in the river below the Dalles and the mouth of the Willamette While the thermometer remains at the above it will soon leave the river from the mouth of the Willamette will probably be undistructed in the course of two weeks

WILL EXAMINE THE CHANNEL—We are informed that Gen Michler has been proffered the use of a steamer to ascend the Wallamet river to the highest attainable point The object of the visit will be to carefully examine the channel all the way along up The location extent and character of all the shoals and bars will be examined carefully so that subsequent appropriations made by Congress for the improvement of the channel may be expended judiciously and to the best possible advantage Already a great improvement has been made to the condition of the channel of the Upper Wallamet in removing snags Especially but still there remains much to be accomplished in opening the river to navigation at all seasons of the year Gen Michler we understand will proceed up the river and examine carefully in person the obstructions which have so long and still do fetter navigation

AN INSANE MAN—Sheriff L S Scott arrived here yesterday morning in charge of an insane person from Marion county The unfortunate individuals name is Joseph Thealeau Some days ago Theadeau stole a horse in the lower part of the county and went to what is known as Jackson s Hill with the animal He was pursued and arrested, He frankly confessed to the larceny when caught He acted and talked so strangely that he was thought to be insane On Tuesday he was taken before the County Judge and examined and was adjudged insane Immediately after his arrival he was committed to the asylum Theadeau is about thirty five years old and unmarried The cause of his insanity is not known

RIVER OPEN—A gentleman who arrived in the city last evening from the Dalles reports that the Columbia is open and almost entirely clear of ice from the mouth of Hood River to the Dalles This is for a distance of nearly thirty miles However there is a heavy gorge of ice just above the Cascades Another gentleman who just arrived from Umatilla informs us that the river from the latter place down for a long distance was free from ice as far as he was able to see from the stage in traveling along Just above Celilo at a point known as Hellgate, the river is jammed full of ice Last evening the thermometer at Walla Walla was 30°, which will certainly make it lively for the ice very soon

IMPROVING THE CHANNEL—We were shown a letter yesterday written from Umatilla Bend by one of the engineers superintending the improvements being made to the channel of the Upper Columbia The letter stated that work had been suspended for some days in consequence of the river being filled with floating ice which rendered operations very difficult The thermometer during the cold spell had ranged from 5° to 20° above zero It was hoped to resume work in a few days after the letter was written

INFORMATION DESIRED—S A Breese of Cottonwood Falls (Kansas) is desirous of learning further particulars concerning the death of his brother in law, John McGwin who was reported to have fallen off the wharf in this city in 1870 dying three days after ward from the effect of the injuries then received Any person knowing the facts in the case will please communicate with the person above named giving all the detailed statements of the case that he has in his possession

FIRE—Last evening the bells tapped an alarm, about 7 30 o clock The presence of the destroyer was discovered in the rear of Quinns Fish Market on Washington street A stove which was sitting near the wall of one of the small back rooms had communicated fire to the paper at one side and was blazing fiercely when discovered The engines came promptly to the scene and the fire was extinguished in a moment The damage was very slight

UNDER ARREST—Capt C W Tampson of the American ship Aiba was arrested yesterday by the U S Marshal on the charge of cruelly maltreating a sailor on the high seas The first mate was also arrested under a similar charge Both were taken before the U S Commissioner and gave bonds for their appearance at the February term of the U S District Court in the sum of $1 000

A CYPRESS TRIUMPH

ATTEMPT BY RAN AND A TOSTOFFICE CLERK

The number of heroic souls who delight in the exercise of this expensive thriftless quality for enjoyment takes greater pleasure in nothing more than in the witnessing of a purely solemn occasion of this kind, the embodiment of natural dignity and importance in clothes administered to scathing rebuke to some smart petty officer. This morning just such a perfect combination of innate dignity loomed up at the stamp window of the Postoffice and after standing motionless for a moment or two at the luckless clerk, reached out a pair of fetters of such spring to the unwilling wrist as to the stately customer what he wanted. The great man did not answer for several moments. He gazed steadily and impressively over the clerk's head and then asked in ponderous tones

"Is the money one here who attends to business?"

The embarrassed clerk blushed, faltered for a moment or two, recovering himself said with a characteristic and national carefulness becoming an official of the republic

"I will see, sir"

And he disappeared. He went into the other department, tortured the clerks with an original conundrum and heard a good story in the mailing room and came back.

"Yes, sir," he said to the great one, "there are, in addition to myself, three clerks in the letter department, one in the mailing room, four carriers, three route agents, the mail driver and a janitor

"Ah h'm" I am glad there are so many I may in all that number, find one who is at his post."

And then he looked as impressive as a special agent, and was silent for three minutes while the impressive clerk wanted his orders, and impatient men behind him fidgetted and grumbled. Finally the great man said, with deep solemnity

"I wish one three-cent stamp"

The clerk tore of the stamp and held it, waiting for the consideration. The great man made a somewhat longer pause than usual, he felt in his various vast pockets, he gradually lost his look of impressive rebuke, his chest caved in, and he assumed the aspect of an ordinary frail mortal and he said

"Ah—the fact is—I am sure—ah—in short, I find that I have carelessly left my purse at home Can you kindly—"

The impassive clerk, with the faintest suggestion of triumph in his eyes, waved the great man aside with it

"Sorry for you, sir, but the clerk who sells on credit is not in What does the next man want?"

And we felt so good to see how that clerk was taken down by the dignified man that we went away and laughed for a week

Wheat in Liverpool by mail advices from San Francisco—Average California, 12s 3d@13s 6d club, 12s 9d@14s 3d

The close of the month and year the time for accounting and liquidation finds our local money market in a very fair condition, when we consider the great financial storm which has passed over some sections of the country during the past three months prostrating in many instances what were considered colossal fortunes and sweeping into pecuniary oblivion the names of men who towered like giants among the wealthy men of the land That no greater havoc has followed the many failures that have occurred during the now dying year is a matter of congratulation among those who understand the varied relations existing between each and every other department of business and trade We of Oregon have felt this shock in a less degree than the people of any other section of our country, and it is but an evidence of the law of compensation" that we should realize less of the cheerful effects of the recuperation which is now taking place in the East though we gladly chronicle the fact that the outlook for 1874 is much more favorable than we had at the beginning of the year now at its close Yet since 1873 came in our city and the State at large has been quite prosperous in the main and save the disaster of August 24 we remember no severe losses as affecting any considerable number of people in our borders.

Since January 31st we have exported the equivalent in wheat and flour of at least 2 125 000 bushels of wheat, besides a vast amount of other produce of an aggregate value of—at a low estimate—three and a half millions of dollars. Had not our imports been large, we might now be enjoying the most abundant capital of any community in the whole Union Our exports in proportion to our population have been greater than even those of our favored sister California, and much greater than those of the United States at large Our prospects for future growth are unsurpassed and when the lapse of time shall have given our State a place among the commercial communities of the globe which time alone can give we will compare favorably with any spot occupied by the American people

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering with some loathsome disease from the effects of indulgence in early youth which has entered into the system Look at their pallid countenances and shattered frames Behold their blotched faces all their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life.
